Crows' Nest Pass Highways Association

Delegates Report To Meeting At Coleman

Through some oversight or misunderstanding, quite a number of local parties who are interested in the better roads movement, including ourselves, were not notified regarding a meeting of the Crows' Nest Pass Highways Association to be held at Coleman on Wednesday afternoon, and as a result Blairstown was not very well represented at that meeting.

We understand that the purpose of the meeting was to hear the report of the delegates who recently returned from Edmonton.

The delegates, Mayors Morrison and Sinclair, reported that they had interviewed the Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of public works, at his office on Saturday, the 25th, presenting the petition for better roads from the citizens of this district, the resolution passed at the last regular meeting of the association, a blue print of the proposed road along the south side of Crows' Nest Lake and a letter from Mr. Woods, engineer at Pincher Creek, in connection with the proposed road, for the minister's consideration. In supporting the petition, the delegates pointed out that the Crows' Nest Pass is a very important part of this province, in which is located one of the world's most extensive coal fields, and that the several prosperous towns with fairly large populations were greatly handicapped because of the poor condition of the roads, particularly the interprovincial highway. Agitation has been on for years to have some definite improvements effected. The present road over the Summit will never give satisfaction, and the amount of money spent year after year in repairing that thoroughfare would go far towards building an ideal highway on practically a level grade along the south shore of the lake. The material for road making, as stated by Mr. Woods, is the very best that can be desired and is easily obtainable, and the cost of construction for a distance of several miles would not be very great. This new road was of the utmost importance, not only from a local, but from a national standpoint, the present old road including an unnecessary steep grade, which is blocked with snow and impassable for the most of the year.

Pending the consideration of the new road proposition, it was asked that the old road be immediately placed in such repair as to make travel safe. In reply to the delegates, Mr. Stewart explained that there was a pressing need for better roads all over the province, and that the matter was being carefully considered by his department. In the farming portions of the province the local improvement districts co-operated with the government on such matters and paid a share of the cost. The maintenance of roads was also receiving attention and a scheme of paying so much per mile per year to some local party was being experimented with and was proving satisfactory. Mr. Stewart appeared to be in sympathy with the building of the road along the south side of the lake and has given his engineer instructions to get information on the matter as soon as possible. He also informed the delegation that he would make a trip through the Crows' Nest Pass about the latter part of April or as soon as the roads were dried up, and would be glad to meet the association, but in the meantime would instruct Mr. Jordan to make whatever repairs are necessary.

From the above it appears that the purpose of the Crows' Nest Pass Highways Association will have good effect, and the association is deserving of public sympathy. Already upwards of thirty business men and others have joined the association, and we understand that quite a number of others have signified their intention of becoming members and assisting in the great work undertaken by this new organization. All who are interested in the matter of good roads and in the welfare of our district in general should connect themselves with the Crows' Nest Pass Highways Association and attend the meetings which will be held from time to time.

Induction Service at Central Union Church

A large audience turned out last night to witness the induction of Rev. E. H. Chalmers, B.A., M.D., at the Central Union church.

The service was unique, being perhaps the first time in the history of the Dominion that the induction of a Presbyterian minister over a united Presbyterian and Baptist congregation should take place in a Baptist church.

Owing to the moderator, Rev. Hills Wright, being unable to attend, the induction charge was read by Rev. W. M. Chalmers, B.A., of Cowley, who also delivered the pastoral charge.

Rev. W. McNichol, of North Lethbridge Presbyterian church, was the preacher of the evening and delivered an inspiring and powerful discourse.

During the service several selections were rendered by the choir under the leadership of Mrs. Keith.

Luncheon was served at 9 o'clock, followed by a programme of speeches, the principal speakers being Rev. W. T. Young, J. F. Hunter, Lieut.-Col. Lyon and A. S. Tod, the latter occupying the chair. Each in turn offered words of welcome and encouragement to the new pastor, and expressed the hope that unprecedented success would crown his efforts in his new field of labor.

The induction of Dr. Gray into the pastorate of Central Union church marks a new era, not only in the religious life and history of the town of Blairstown, but in the Protestant community. Unanimous in their union of the Methodists, Presbyterians and Congregationalists has been given consideration and has been strongly supported throughout the West, but the ultimate agreement has not been reached because of the strong opposition presented by the churches of the East, where conditions are somewhat different to those in Western Canada.

In Blairstown the general feeling is that only a united effort can insure success, and at a recent meeting of Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodists it was unanimously agreed to unite and secure a strong leader. Rev. Dr. Gray is without a doubt the man fitted in every manner to meet the situation, and enters upon his work under the most pleasant circumstances and the result of Blairstown's experiment will be watched with interest.

Wedding Bells

Wedding bells rang out loud in Cowley on Wednesday of this week, when Samuel Lester Tustian, of Cowley, was united in the bonds of matrimony to Annie Isabella McWilliams, of Lundbreck. The marriage took place at the Presbyterian church. The bride looked charming in a travelling suit of navy blue. After the ceremony, which was conducted by Rev. W. M. Chalmers, B.A., the happy couple left for Lethbridge, where they will spend a few days before

Searching for Plants

U.S. Has an Agricultural Explorer Who Is Always Looking For Something New

It is interesting to know that the United States has in its a quiet sturdy Hollander known as a plant explorer. He has been in most of the out-of-the-way places in the world in search of grain, plants, trees, shrubs, and roots that would add to the agricultural wealth of the country. The Far Eastern Service, Shanghae, China, credits Mr. Frank N. Meyer with being the leading agricultural explorer in the world today. Mr. Meyer has traveled from the coast to the interior with many hundreds of plant specimens. Probably the most important of his discoveries in the Chinese wild places was bellflower, which established the root stock for the stone fruits. This aboriginal growth grows in the wildest and most arid regions of China. It is a practical miracle that it thrives in dry, sandy, stony wastes. By grafting desirable varieties on the roots of the hardy parent, it is believed that many additional weaknesses of the plant will be removed. Among other notable discoveries made by Mr. Meyer are a very large fine persimmon; a climbing tree; prairie mallow; new varieties of plum grape; and an entirely new fruit to this country, the jujube. A number of aquatic food roots and vegetables have been found for the utilization of much of our swamp lands are among the most interesting species in this new collection. The Dr. William's Medicine Co., Toronto, Canada, will pay $100 for each specimen.

Women of Britain Make Great Response

Call for 400,000 to Replace the Men
Men With No Clothes

The call for 400,000 women to replace the 350,000 men who will be missing from agricultural pursuits throughout Great Britain has been heard by responsive ears and without criticism from any of the women's organizations or from the press. Only a small portion of the press, and not among the more advanced, has noted so far in the war, the desire of the women in the war, the desire of the new appeal of the government as bold. The press as a whole has been silent, and in order to arrest this silence since the war began has challenged the energy and devotion with which the British women have responded to the call made upon them.

It is a fact that there is scarcely any profession, trade or industry in which women can be employed where men are not.

Some of the papers point out, however, that farm labor has none of the attractive novelities presented by some of the new occupations which the war has created for women. It is very hard work, it is not well paid, and it has not the inspiration of direct war work which surrounds the work of the kitchen.

In certain localities it is claimed that farm work is unfortunately in competition among the very ranks of workers, who are most probably engaged in it; and the success of the town-bred woman on the land must, it is argued, in the nature of the case affect the chances of the success of the town-bred man has proved by experience to be.

"I found myself on the verge of a nervous collapse due to overwork and study, and I turned to the family," wrote a young mother.

"My friends became alarmed because I grew pale and thin and could not sleep nights. I took various tonics, but they did not help. A series of short attacks stopped taking them. My food did not seem to nourish me."

"Reading of Grape-Nuts, I determined to try them, and to see what a change of diet would do. I ate Grape-Nuts four times a day with cream, and drank milk also, went to bed early after eating a few of them."

"In two weeks I was sleeping soundly. In a short time gained weight and felt like a different woman. Grape-Nuts also helped me to accomplish the housework." "There's a Reason," Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windson, Ont.

RHEUMATISM A MYSTERY

Unless Rooted Out of the System It Grows Worse and Worse

Some diseases give immunity from another attack, but rheumatism works just the other way. Every attack of rheumatism invades another part of the body than that it reduces the body's power so that each attack is worse than the before. If any disease needs cure, it is rheumatism. There are few cases physicians find more difficult to treat successfully. We never does not cause rheumatism as we once thought. Dr. W. H. M. 2000

Rheumatism may start the aches and pains. Rheumatism is now known to be dependent upon the blood condition. Doctors who are not acquainted with the blood become agitated that the blood becomes thin with alarming rapidity, as rheumatism develops. Maintaining the quality of the blood is the best preventive way of preventing and curing rheumatism. That works out in fact is shown by the beneficial results which follow. Fair trial of Dr. W. H. M. 2000

The pills normally make new, rich blood which drives out the rheumatic poison, and while the blood is kept in this condition there is no trouble. I am a doctor of homeopathic training, Dr. W. H. M. 2000

He was attacked with a trouble which was uncurable by any physician. Often I was partly able to crawl into bed, and seldom able to do a full day's work. In this condition I doctor to see a year about getting no relief. I saw a man who had consulted a doctor whose first consultation was that unless I could get rid of the trouble I would be a cripple for life. He prescribed a medicine which I took for him for at least six months, but instead of getting relief I became weaker and less able to get around. Then I got a job which I did not like, and was under his treatment for about four months with no better results. I gave up the doctors and tried other ways, which did not help me. Then one day our store keeper sent me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, saying that if they did not help me I might as well take them. I took them and they got some more, and found they were helping me, and probably saved $10 worth before I felt fully cured. They cost me only 10 cents more than as compared with the other treatments which did not help me. The cure was made several years ago, and I have had a half dozen relapses. I am as well today as I was then.

You can get these pills through your druggist or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE BIG BLOW TO GERMANY

The approaching armistice between the allied powers will probably lead to a peace conference between Germany and Austria after the war will be a tremendous blow to the Fascist empire—the heavily armed that the war has yet brought them.

The new compact puts Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Serbia and Japan on the footing of a federation of nations acting one for all and all for one. What is remembered that the immense troops of Germany upon which her prosperity up to the time of the war outbreak was built,
depended very largely upon the export trade of Germany and Austria, with Britain, France and Russia as her biggest customers; then it is easy to see what a sledge-hammer blow this will deal

Kaiser Wilhelm and his admiral von Hindenburg.

The new compact reflects
that Britain's open market to German products, built up a tremendous part of Germany's trade and prosperity, the prosperity which has been turned to guns and zeppelins in an endeavor to strike the most liberal and democratic country in the world.—Medicine Hat Times.

Woman Suffrage

And now a woman is coming into her own.
Manitoba has commonly approved of a measure giving full power to women to vote and to hold office in the legislature;
and it is reported that other provinces are hastening to follow the example.
Why not? Women have great treasured in good laws and good government as have men. They have just as much at stake. Wrong-doing and mismanagement of public affairs bear quite as heavily on wives as on husbands. Women are just as wise as men, just as human,
just as capable of forming judgments just as sane. Why should they not have the right to vote and to assist in making legislation?

There are some ways in which we may hope for improvement in our condition.
The women have a voice in public affairs.
They are such leaders that they take pride in dealing with what they call the big things of life, namely, trade, commerce, finance, inter-provincial relations. The greatest thing of all they are likely to overlook—the moral condition of the community. It is here women will excel. We may expect a new attitude towards education, towards criminals, child labor, housing in towns and cities, public libraries and towards social problems in general. Philanthropy, too, will be put on a new footing.

In short, a new scale of values will be made out. Prosperity and success will be measured in terms of character and conduct rather than in terms of wealth. This is the way to success.

It is for us to make ourselves
ready to take the lead.

"Let me tell you just as many of the good things of life as we can provide the money for, but let us first take stock of
our purse, and see where the money is coming from to pay for them without
impairing our credit."

"Finally, let us remember that a lot of

these things which the public is demanding
is being done by public officials, and at public expense, and should be done by the individual. Let us bring home to the parent his duty to look after the welfare of his child, and his duty as a citizen to be individually responsible for
some things that have been demanded of
the state."

"There is the other side to be looked
at. The public affairs must be paid for the same as individual bills. We all want
these things we can't afford. I do and you.
And yet, haven't we both done without
these things in times past, and hasn't the economy done us good?" In the general result of discarding ourselves we have strengthened our character and cleared our vision.
We can do a lot of things if we have to, and they don't cost us either.

"Let us live just as many of the good things of life as we can provide the
money for, but let us first take stock of
our purse, and see where the money is
coming from to pay for them without
impairing our credit."

"Finally, let us remember that a lot of

these things which the public is demanding
is being done by public officials, and at

the individual. Let us bring home to

welfare of his child, and his duty as a
citizen to be individually responsible for
some things that have been demanded of
the state."

Improve School, But Pay As We Go

A writer in the Spokesman Review of recent date suggests a method of improving the economy in public affairs have a strong friend in O. A. Fether of North Yarmouth. As banker, university regent, and man of letters, Mr.

Fether has taken a keen interest in public affairs, and while he earnestly believes in the best that can be afforded he lays stress on the latter part of that statement rather than the first.

While waiting on the college campus
in front of the administration building at Washington State College last Friday morning, for the procession to form for the inauguration of President Holland
these things of public interest were discussed by Mr. Fether with a reporter for the Spokesman-Review.

Mr. Fether is president of the board of regents of Washington University. He had just returned from the inauguration of President Daniels.

We have a splendid institution here,"
he remarked. "We have a fine university at Seattle. We have a splendid school system in this state, and I am particularly proud of them. Things look rosy from an educational point of view.
I wish they looked as well from other sides—
financial, for instance.

"No one will deny our young people
the best the state can afford in the way of education, and yet I sometimes wonder if we really can afford all we are giving.

The state has increased rapidly in the way of population. Development has come so fast in the last decade that we thought nothing but development, because the other problems were not on the front. Now, however, we are face to face with the question of paying prices. Our school taxes have increased in the last ten years, and the larger part of the total levy of the state and yet there is a constantly increasing need for more schools, more facilities.

On the other hand, we have a surplus in the state. Just as an example, in Cheyenne, there is a constant demand for more facilities, and more money. They are up to their hilt, and some are advocating that the schools be closed. They must do something that has not been worked on thus far."

"That pendulum is a mighty long one.
Frankly, I don't think so. The man for progress, more bonds and more taxes seems to be still swinging nicely. I was on our school board for a number of years at North Yarmouth and the demands for more facilities, more new departments and facilities kept on. It was able, with others of the board, to stay this tide to a standstill, but it seems they are still making more demands."

"We are going to have medical inspection in the schools, if not by any judges.
That has a very big demand over here.
There is a very large interest in these affairs, and it seems impossible to get them to look at the financial side. The woman voter is going to be a big factor in the development of the new idea that must come of looking forward to the time of payment."

"There is the other side to be looked
at. The public affairs must be paid for
the same as individual bills. We all want
these things we can't afford. I do and you.
And yet, haven't we both done without
these things in times past, and hasn't

Important Announcements ment to Frenchmen

The general council of France in Montreal has sent me the following communication, which is of importance to all Frenchmen:

General Consul of France in Canada,
"Rouen et de l'Orne," Paris, 1916,

By decree of the 4th February, 1916,
the minister of war has decided that no
further privileges will be given for delay
in answering the call to the colors, except for a limited period, and that the privilege already granted in some cases of delaying for an indefinite period must cease from the following date:

31st March, 1916, for those whose belli-cious spirit in Europe and in northern Africa (Morocco, Tunis, Tripoli), Egypt,

30th April, 1916, for those whose belli-cious spirit in the other parts of Africa in Asia, America and in Oceania.

After these dates soldiers who have not complied with the above regulations will be disobeying the military law.

To justify their position the interested parties will have to apply at my office, 211 Gran Exchange building.

Annual Meeting of International Coal and Coke Company

The annual meeting of stockholders of the International Coal and Coke Company, limited, was held yesterday in the company's office in the Old National Bank building, with a fair attendance of shareholders and nearly all of the stock represented in person or by proxy. The old officers and directors were re-elected as follows:

President, A. C. Flummereit of Victoria, B.C.

First Vice-President, H. Davidson of Vancouver, B.C.

Second Vice-President, A. L. White, Managing Director, R. W. Reddell of Coleman, Alberta.

Secretary, W. G. Graves.

Director, in addition to the above, C. S. Houghton of Boston, Mass.

The other officers of the company are: Manager and General Superintendent, O. E. S. Whiteside, and Treasurer, John McKegan, both of Coleman, Alberta.

This twelfth annual report of the directors is signed by President Flummereit and Managing Director Reddell, and contains many figures that show the assets total $1,144,144, of which $880,107 represents plant, railroad, equipment, etc., at cost, and $215,915 for coal lands, rights and development. The current assets total $68,816. The principal liability is the company's issued capital consisting of 3,000,000 shares, par value $1. The profit and loss account shows a loss on the operations during 1915 of $4529, reducing the balance at credit of that account to $75,340. The surplus stands at $385,589, after transferring $28,699 to reserves. The report of the directors follows:

From the figures shown you will notice a loss of $4529,10 in the year's operations. Although the balance is on the losing side, considering the adverse conditions under which the mine was operated and turning into special accounts additional development and the sums spent thereon, the result must be considered satisfactory.

The season's operations were begun without any railway contract for coal. The primary reason was the imposition of special requirements with which we were, unfortunately, unable to comply. In the meantime the general depression occasioned by the war interfered with the other business we had secured. We are now able to meet the railway requirements. Notwithstanding all the difficulties under which we labored business of sufficient magnitude was obtained which enabled the management to develop 630,358 tons of additional coal over what was mined last year, a sum of approximately $80,000, besides applying the necessary equipment and maintaining the efficiency of the plant.

As it was impossible to forecast the duration of the trade depression your directors received the authority of the shareholders to bount the property in order that the mine might be kept in condition and in operation, with sufficient development ahead to be in a position to take advantage of any revival in trade, and they are now pleased to be able to report that sufficient orders are in hand and in sight to operate at a profit, and that for the present, at least, it will not be necessary to call upon the powers given for the issuance of bonds.

The development of the third level is now rapidly advanced to admit of producing about 700 tons per day. The cost of the plant, etc., to develop this level was approximately $158,000, all of which has been paid out of the earnings of the mine, and had it not been for the special conditions which rendered this expenditure necessary this sum would have been available for dividends.

As the policy of the company has always been to keep the developments well in advance of the requirements, we have in contemplation the opening of the third level during the year 1916. Your mine and plant are in good condition, we operated 151 days during the year and employed an average 181 men.

"Casey," said Pat, "how do you tell the age of a fowl?"

"I can always tell by the teeth," said Casey.

"By the teeth?" exclaimed Pat, "But a fowl has no teeth."

"No," admitted Casey, "but Oi have."

A gang of spotters have been busy around this section of the Pass for the past two weeks, and proceedings instituted this week show that they were successful in inducing a few innocent individuals to so stray from their ways as to lay themselves open for conviction under the license act, and as a result considerable sum for the provincial treasury has been deducted from a few poor and "innocent" individuals. Why the government will persist in allowing this practice to be continued no one can say, but it is a fact that those undesirable who are willing to undertake the mean practice of a spotter or a spy are absolutely no use to a community or a country.

OF LOCAL AND GENERAL INTEREST

H. Ostlund, solicitor, of Lethbridge, was in town on Tuesday.

F. W. Lindsay and Little Jim were in town on Tuesday from Pincher Creek, on a brief visit.

W. A. Peeler returned last week end from Spokane, where he had been as a witness in an important case.

Rev. W. McD. Tait, of Pincher Creek, will be the preacher at the Coleman Institutional church on Sunday next.

Alas! nowadays a wife is a matter of chance, a husband a matter of opportunity, an affluence, a matter of course—and a divorce just a matter of time.

In the transportation of a copy of last Thursday's Coleman Bulletin to Blairmore was not really responsible for Tuesday night's eastbound train being late.

Among the Coleman people to visit our sanctum on Wednesday were A. F. Haddad, Ed. Haddad, T. W. Davies, W. L. Ouimette, J. Wright and Private C. Higgins.

Lieutenant Sir Ernest H. Shackleton has returned from his Antarctic expedition, says a signed dispatch. News of the achievements of the expedition is withheld for the present.

Rev. J. W. McNichol, of North Lethbridge; W. M. Chalmers, of Cowley; and Dr. E. H. Gray, of Lemberg, Sack, arrived in town by Thursday morning's train for the induction service.

Mr. Wright, formerly in partnership with W. L. Ouimette, at Coleman, under the firm name of Wright, Ouimette & Co., and who is now a resident of Calgary, is visiting his old haunts in The Pass.

Clifford and Kenneth Crawford, sons of Wm. Crawford, of Cowley, came to town on Wednesday and signed up with the 192nd Battalion. Both are stalwart-looking young men and will make good soldiers.

Nothing definite has yet been ascertained concerning the sinking of the steamer "Tubantia," said Minister of Marine Rambonnet to the Associated Press Thursday, but nothing will be left undone by our department to establish with certainty the cause of the disaster.

The idea has been expressed of celebrating Arbor Day in Blairmore by allowing every man in khaki to plant a tree along the south side of Victoria Street. Thus doing, the trees would be a lasting memento of the number of men who enlisted for service, as well as having the tendency of beautifying the town.

J. A. Osborne was down from Nanaimo on Monday of this week.

Jack Keefe and Robbie Griffiths are back on the Frank yard crew again.

Major Hislop and Capt. Ferris, of the C.A.M.C., Edmonton, are in town today.

A cleaning and pressing establishment has been opened up next to the co-operative store at Frank.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Marshall Hamilton of Frank, at present in the Blairmore hospital, is improving.

Miss Lillian Thomas returned to Frank from Calgary during the week, and visited friends in Blairmore on Wednesday.

Before the end of June the allied armies will strike simultaneous blows on all fronts, with the object of bringing the Kaiser to his knees and ending the war before Christmas.

In the provincial house on Wednesday, Bob Campbell, member for Rocky Mountain, made a plea for expenditure and highly praised mine rescue stations established by the government. He also asked that Alberta coal be advertised in other provinces.

Reference is made in the London press to a matter which has been one of the most discussed topics in London clubs for several weeks past, an expected attempt of Germany to land an expeditionary force on English soil with the purpose of effecting the occupation of London.

An urgent request, addressed by the Greek government to the entente powers for a loan of £6,000,000 ($80,000,000) is being considered by the allied council in Paris. The loan may be granted, subject to Greece's acceptance of certain conditions which the allies council is now engaged in drafting.

A local gent left his office during the "dry" hours of Saturday afternoon, and pinned up the following notice on his door: "Back in ten minutes." One of the school-boys observing the notice added the word "weak," so that the notice read "Weak back in ten minutes," and he was right, too.

The number of widows of British soldiers who have thus far been reported to the army council is 41,500, according to William H. Fisher, parliamentary secretary of the local government board, in a speech to the house of commons on the war pensions bill. The widows of sailors, Mr. Fisher said, aggregated about 8,000.

"Great Britain and her allies will face a new peril after the present conflict in an industrial war, for which Germany has long been preparing by the creation of a new and formidable class of highly skilled workmen." This statement was made by Viscount Hallane, the former secretary of state for war, in an address at the University of London.

All is ready in Germany for the great combined air and sea raid on England. In the North Sea there has been great activity. The feeling in London is that final touches have been put to the German fleets of seaplanes, cruisers, destroyers and submarines. At any moment news is looked for that "the Germans are out," and that the long expected attempt to bring about a "der tag" has been launched.

D. A. Sinclair and A. M. Morrison returned from their mission to Edmonton on Monday morning last.

Eleven persons were killed when the British steamer "Minneapolis" was sunk.

The name "Sir Robert" is given to a mountain in the British Columbia coast range, nine miles southeast of Doreen station, and the glacier at the foot of the mountain has been called "Borden."

Inspector and Mrs. Junget are expected up from Pincher Creek this weekend. They will reside in the west end of Blairmore in future, the inspector being given charge of The Pass sub-district of the B.N.W.M.P.

The Spokane "Flyer" will not be put on the Crows run this summer. This will be a severe disappointment to the travelling public along this line as the present accommodation is far from satisfactory.—Fernie Free Press.

A local lady, who keeps four white hens, complains that one of the layers was robbed of every tail feather on Sunday night last, so now we feel safe in designating the members of the "white feather" brigade as thieves.

A substantial order for sewer pipe placed by the city of Lethbridge with a Medicine Hat firm, will result in increased activity of clay production there, and enable Lethbridge to secure supplies required inside the province.

Last week's Coleman Bulletin struck a job, so it says, and turned out an "order for 25,000 milk tickets for the Crystal Dairy at Blairmore." We wish first to inform our friend of the Bulletin that the Crystal Dairy is without the limits of the town of Blairmore, and further that his IMMENSE order is but a patch on ours just completed for 400,000 milk tickets, and this in addition to other jobs handled by us during the past ten days aggregating 73,000 runs. We don't blame the poor Bulletin man for feeling elated when given the chance to get the price of a meal ticket.

W. J. McGowan, J.P., of Bellevue, has been appointed a coroner.

A bill has been introduced in the Dominion parliament forbidding the shipment of intoxicating liquor into any province that has passed a prohibitory law. It also forbids the shipment of liquor into any place under local option law.

Lieut.-Col. Mackay in appointing his officers for overseas service states that no officer will be appointed to any rank higher than lieutenant other than staff officers. All officers will be placed absolutely on their merits and the most efficient will eventually be given command of companies.—Fernie Free Press.

A bill authorizing the appointment of a fire commissioner, whose duties will be to travel through the province, condemning shacks that are unsafe and investigating all fires that occur, with a view to instituting criminal proceedings if incendiarism is suspected on good grounds, has been introduced in the legislature. The bill's aim is to more actively get after fire-trap buildings, especially in small towns. Fire underwriters of the province are in favor of the measure and its introduction is largely the result of visits of certain fire insurance and financial delegations which were in Edmonton just before the beginning of the session.

A big creditors sale is being put on at Messrs. Haddad Bros' store, and as a large amount of money must be raised in a short time, it is reasonable to expect that genuine bargains are in store for patrons. The stock in charge of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Company, and their agent, Mr. Hanna, will see that the buying public gets the benefit of this great money raising and money saving event. The sale starts on Saturday, April the 1st and will continue until the amount of money required is raised. Don't miss this opportunity.

A western newspaper director is looking for a boy helper in his printing office, and is offering him "ten dollars a month and a board." At that rate the kid might have lumber enough inside of two years to build himself a casket, which is the height of the ambition of every poor printer.

C. H. Ley, of Calgary, formerly with Trust and Guarantee Company, was committed for trial recently, on several different charges of theft from the Imperial Trust Co.

It may take experience to make a woman interesting, but after she has acquired it almost any woman would gladly exchange all her experience for a baby stare and a dimple.

"Well, Johnny, how did you like school?"

"I didn't like it a bit. The teacher put me on a chair and told me to sit there for the present. And I sat and sat, and she never gave me the present."

At a negro wedding, when the clergymen read the words "love, honor and obey," the bridegroom interrupted and said: "Read that again, sah! Read once more, so's de lady kin ketch de full solemnity ob de meanin'. I've been married before."

T. Ede and L. H. Putnam, barristers and solicitors, leave by tomorrow night's train for Calgary, in connection with court matters. Here's hoping they will have no trouble in getting before the "bar" and being successful in their several cases.

Liquid fire has been the means by which the Germans gained the portions of trenches mentioned in recent official communications, says the Journal des Debats and the military committee of the chamber of deputies is inquiring into methods for the protection of the French troops against such attacks and the use of similar weapons in reprisal.

Anglican church service on Sunday next, April 2nd, will be at 7.30 p.m. The preacher will be Rev. H. Clay. Subject of address: "Christ's talk with the woman at the well." There will be no morning service on the above date, but on the following Sunday, at 11 a.m., as usual. A mission service with intercession is held each Tuesday evening at 7.30.

Officers of the 192nd had a charge laid against one of the government "spotters" at Coleman this week, which resulted in the bars of the prisoner's cage standing between the spotter and the world at large. After the matter had been taken up with the authorities, it was found that the arrest was not justified, and the accused was discharged, and instead a charge was laid for selling liquor without a license.

Thos. Ede, barrister, of this town, who in the early days practiced in Calgary, succeeded in recovering an old friend of twenty-seven years standing, after an absence of that time, when this week the old client appeared on the scene in the person of Frank Marpage, and business of many years ago was finally wound up. We understand that some thirty years ago a certain sum of money was placed in a branch of the Bank of Montreal at Calgary, to the credit of Mr. Ede and his client, and that has accumulated and is now in the thousands and will net each party a nice little nest egg in a time when both parties are past the wage limit. Who says marriage is a failure?

G. Gusewski came to town from Winnipeg on Tuesday.

The honeymoon is not absolutely over until the first time a man tries to square himself with his wife by offering her a cheque instead of a kiss—and succeeds.

"Personality" is the color of the soul, and people who are famed for "personality" are those whose souls are such a charming color that they are not afraid to show them.

We were wondering why so many men are enlisting without making arrangements for the settlement of their accounts. This is leap year, and jumping a board bill or a grocer's account is considered honorable.
